MONEY ORDER SERVICE FOR U.S. AND CHINA NOW IN FORCE

Ford, American Postal Agent, Makes Announcement

NEW CONVENTION

Operation Will Be Under The 1922 Treaties

Announcement of the new direct money order service between China and the United States, and other notes pertaining to unfinished business at the United States Postal Agency, were made in two orders given out by Mr. Clyde S. Ford, U. S. Postal Agent, last night. He said:

"The Money Order Convention with the United States which was signed at Washington on July 27, and at Peking on November 24, 1922, provides for the exchange of Money Orders between China and the United States of America, with its possessions, except the Panama Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands.

"The amounts of Money Orders in both directions shall be expressed in United States currency and the maximum amount of each order is fixed at One Hundred (100) United States dollars gold. The fee on money orders issued in China to be cashed in the United States is fixed at 10 cents of a dollar per ten dollars or fraction of ten dollars. The fee will be charged on the equivalent in local currency of the sum to be remitted in United States gold currency."

SUPERSEDES OLD

The above convention supersedes the temporary procedure for the transaction of international money order business outlined in the United States Postal Bulletin Notice of September 28, 1922, under the heading "Modification of Method in drawing Hongkong orders."

This old arrangement provided for drawing international money orders on Hongkong for repayment through the Chinese Post Offices, but advise is hereby given that money orders in United States Currency can now be purchased in any International Money Order Chinese Post Office and likewise United States International Money Order Post Offices will issue money orders in United States Currency on the same class of Post Offices in China, so that the arrangement for the intermediation of Hongkong is no longer effective.

While this office was closed December 31, 1922, for all new postal business it will remain open for a sufficient time for the settlement of postal accounts and the transaction of all other unfinished postal business, Mr. Ford announces. Office Hours will be from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. (excepting the luncheon hour, from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m.) daily, except Sundays and Holidays.

War Savings Certificates of the Series 1918, maturing January, 1923, and Thrift Stamps will be redeemed at this office by payment in United States Currency or local check in United State Currency to the owner in person, or to an authorised payee, in the absence of the owner, or by mail remittance direct to the owner.

(a) A certificate presented by the owner in person must be receipted by a signature identical with the name of the owner, i.e., when full name is written as the owner the signature cannot be written with initials only, but must be written with each part of the name spelled out in full as it is written for the name of the owner.

(b) When payment cannot be made to owner in person another person payee may be designated by the owner by using the authorisation blank form. Payment will be made direct to authorised payee in this office.

(c) Payments may be made by registered mail, when properly receipted certificates are received. Remittance will be made direct to owner by local check in United States gold dollars, by United States Money Order payable in the United States or by Chinese Money Order payable in Mexican currency. The owner must pay money order fees and postage.

PEKING WARNED NOT TO SPEND NEW REVENUES

Must Be Reserved For Debt Payment, Diplomats Warn

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 8.—With reference to the increased Customs revenue accruing to the Chinese Government when the new tariff comes into operation, it is reported that the Diplomatic Corps will address another dispatch to the Waichiaopu or Ministry of Foreign Affairs, demanding that the increased Customs revenue shall not be appropriated by the Government for any use whatever, pending the settlement of China's foreign debts.

It is understood, however, that the Diplomatic Corps will approve the allotment of a portion of the increased Customs receipts towards the expenses of the Ministries of Foreign Affairs, Justice and Education, as proposed by the Government.

The Shanghai Chinese General Chamber of Commerce and the Shanghai Chinese Bankers Associations despatched telegrams yesterday to the Cabinet, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector-General of the Maritime Customs, demanding that the increased Customs revenue should be applied to the consolidation of the sinking fund for domestic loans.

Joint telegrams have sent by the local general Chamber of Commerce, the Bankers Association, and the Native Bank Guild to the government, the Inspector-General of Maritime Customs, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, emphasising the fact that the Customs Surplus has already been appropriated for the sinking fund of the Domestic loans, and therefore should not be used for building up a sinking fund for foreign debts.

J.M. SPEERS, NEW Y.M.C.A. HEAD, HAS 2 SONS IN CHINA

Recently Elected International Chief Here Year Ago

The election of James M. Speers, president of James McCutcheon and Co., linen merchants of New York city, to the chairmanship of the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A., is of special interest to members and friends of the local Association because that Committee is the general agent of all the 2,000 Associations in North America, and also of scores of Associations in foreign lands.

This Committee is composed of approximately 200 business and professional men of the United States and Canada who, with their employed staff, direct the service abroad and certain features of the home work of the American Associations. Through it these Associations carry on work in Europe, Russia, Siberia, Asia, the Near East, Africa and Latin America.

Mr. Speers succeeds Alfred E. Marling, former president of the New York State Chamber of Commerce, who had served as chairman since 1910. Mr. Marling continues as a member of the Committee, with which he has been actively associated for 30 years. He has been a member of the Y.M.C.A. virtually all his life, having joined the famous Twenty-third Street Branch in New York City, the first Y.M.C.A. in the metropolis, when a boy. During his chairmanship of the International Committee, the extension of American Association service to foreign countries has had its largest growth. It was also during this period that the American Y.M.C.A. entered upon its service in Europe for soldiers and sailors, prisoners of war, and refugees. Mr. Marling was a member of the Executive Committee of the National War Work Council.

Mr. Speers was born in County Antrim, Ireland, coming to the United States in 1880. In the same year he entered the employ of the famous linen house of which, in 1912, he became president. He is officially connected with numerous secular and religious organisations and enterprises. Among them the United States Life Insurance Co., of which he is a director. He was chairman of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. He is a member of the Union League Club of New York City. His home is in Montclair, N. J.

A year ago Mr. Speers, together with his wife, made a trip around the world in order to visit three of their sons who are in mission work, and spent a few days in Shanghai. His oldest son, James M. Speers, Jr., is athletic director

Smithsonian Naturalist Arrives Here To Collect Central China Specimens

C. M. Hoy Son Of Yochow Missionary, Discovered Unknown Variety Of Porpoise In Tung-tien Lakes

BY LARRY LEHRBAS

Specimens of birds and mammals from Central China, hitherto overlooked by the scientists of the world, are to be sent to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington within the next 18 months, according to Mr. C. M. Hoy, Naturalist at the official government museum, who arrived in Shanghai on the President Madison. Mr. Hoy is at the Astor House.

Mr. Hoy, who is the son of the Rev. W. E. Hoy, president of Huping College, a Reformed Church school at Yochow, has already achieved considerable scientific fame through his collections of species of the kangaroo, duck-billed platypus and other mammals found only in Australia, during the past three years, and through his discovery of a mammal new to science in the Tung-tien lakes near Yochow a few years ago.

A NEW PORPOISE

The strange scientifically unknown specie of porpoise found by Mr. Hoy in China is now known scientifically as Lipotes vexillifera, commonly known as the Standard Bearer porpoise. It is called by the Chinese "peh-chi" or "white-flag" porpoise because of its light grey color and large upstanding fin. According to Mr. Hoy the specimen bears a close external resemblance to the Blind Dolphin's, found only in the Ganges, and two species found in South America. Internally, however, it differs greatly having a skeleton construction like those found only in fossils, and as a 'living fossil' has been put in a distinct class by itself by the scientific world.

Since its discovery by Mr. Hoy one specimen has been frozen and shipped to the British Museum in London from Yochow, and Roy Chapman Andrews has collected three specimens for the American Museum of Natural History.

SICCAWEI'S COLLECTION

Central China, and particularly the five provinces forming the Yangtsze basin, have been overlooked by scientists, according to Mr. Hoy, and practically the only collection in existence is at Siccawei Museum here, although Mr. Arthur de C. Sowerby, the well known Shanghai scientist, has collected a number of excellent specimens for the Smithsonian Institute. Mr. Sowerby's collecting, however, has been mostly confined to South China.

During the next 18 months that Mr. Hoy will spend in the wilds of Central China he hopes to secure enough specimens to bear out or refute the present scientifically known facts concerning the flora and fauna of Central China, most of which is known through the work and collection of Pere Heurd, a French Jesuit, who made the Siccawei collection.

Pere Heurd, with the assistance of Catholic missionaries all over China, made the Siccawei collection in the 80's and 90's of 1800, enormously multiplying the number of species to such a bewildering extent that his work has ever since been a stumbling block to scientist's study of China mammology. Mr. Sowerby has been the leading figure in reclassifying Pere Hourd's collection. Because it has been in Shanghai few American or European scientists have had an opportunity of making a study of the question.

PIGS, SIKA, SEROWS

Through Mr. Hoy's coming work the Smithsonian Institute expects to receive a large number of specimens of wild pigs, sika, a Chinese deer; serows, a Chinese goat; and goral as well as other better known varieties of the animal kingdom of China. He will also send back specimens of birds and reptiles peculiar to China, or of the China variety.

Mr. Hoy, who is at the Astor House pending the arrival of a Huchao from Peking allowing him to import the traps, rifles, shotguns, ammunition and other scientific equipment needed in his work, said last night that local sportsmen could materially assist him in his work and also be of assistance to the Smithsonian Institute if they would save the skulls of animals they shoot in the Shanghai or surrounding district.

"Scientists studying mammals find that the most accurate classification results from an examination of the skull," Mr. Hoy said. "In studying birds the entire skeleton is necessary, but in mammals the skull suffices. If Shanghai, or other sportsmen in China, wish to assist the Smithsonian Institute, and at the same time 'do their bit' toward science, they can do so by saving the skulls of animals they shoot. It is not necessary to boil the skull to remove the meat. Their hunting coolies can clean off the meat and allow the skull to dry. It can then be shipped to be at Yochow at my expense, and when specimens are forwarded to the museum it will go as their contribution and acknowledgment of their gift will be made on the card in the museum.

Mr. Hoy has just spent three years in Australia collecting Australian mammals for the Smithsonian Institute. The museum received 1,300 mammals and 1,000 reptile specimens from Australia. Before joining the Smithsonian Institute he was with the United States Biological Survey. He will leave for Yochow within a few days. Mr. Hoy is back in China searching for other new specimens. After Mr. Hoy caught this porpoise four others were found, and so far as known they are the only ones of the species to be captured.

APPEAL FOR HELP FOR 300 RUSSIAN ORPHANS HERE

A Shanghai committee, interested in the 300 boy orphans brought to Shanghai by Admiral Stark on the fifteen portless refugee ships, yesterday issued the following appeal for assistance in caring for the orphans:

"In Shanghai, at present, are located more than 300 Russian Orphans, all boys ranging from 10 to 17 years of age, who have no means of existence.

"These children are all of good birth, and most of them lost their parents during the World War and the Russian revolution; for the last three to five years they have been leading a most unsettled life as their schools were evacuated from town to town, owing to the military activities of their elders, until they finally reached the Pacific, and through no fault or will of theirs, were finally removed from Russian soil and find themselves in a foreign land, foodless, clothless and above all homeless—a sacrifice to the World's great tragedy.

"At present these children are living in a house that was generously offered by a kind hearted foreigner for two months, but they have no beds, mattresses, blankets, chairs, tables, in fact nothing that is essential to health and existence and their condition is pitiful. The need is so great that it is too big a task to be undertaken by individuals or a single organisation, will be readily admitted, and the only solution is the active co-operation of all those who are sympathetic to the unfortunate.

"We have formed a Committee (Relief Committee for Russian Orphans of the Great War) presided over by General K. Walter, Admiral V. Kovalevsky as vice-president and following members: Mrs. C. Shendrikova, Mrs. L. Synnerberg, Mrs. L. Voulteh, Mrs. A. Kovalevsky, Mrs. O. Fumagalli and Mrs. M. Cherkasskaja, with the object of immediate aid of these children and also for deciding and arranging their future destiny, but our Committee will be unable to meet this emergency unless all who can enter into our ranks and help us.

"This is vital and urgent appeal, and you are invited to investigate, to come and visit the children, and see for yourself how necessary your active co-operation is. The address of their present home is No. 4 Jessfield Road.

"Help these children and take unto yourself the humane task of feeding and clothing them; give them the chance to become useful members of society, as you would wish your son to have that chance, if he were in a like unfortunate position.

"Donations are received and information given by the following members of the Committee:

"Mrs. O. Fumagalli, 502 Avenue Joffre Tel. W. 3157.

"Mrs. A. Kovalevsky, 301 Carnival Mercier Tel. W. 2547.

"Mrs. L. Synnerberg, 56 Route Doumer Tel. W. 838.

"Mrs. L. Voulteh, 650 Avenue Dubail Tel. W. 2875."

Others who will serve on the executive committee for 1923 are Major Arthur Bassett, Dr. C. S. F. Lincoln of St. John's University; Dr. S. A. Ransom, a former president of the organisation; Messrs. Leonard Everett, H. D. Rodger, A. B. Hykes and H. A. Wiley.

After the treasurer's report for 1922 had been approved, the annual report was discussed.

Mr. J. Harold Dollar, president of the American Chamber of Commerce made an address, bringing the greetings of the Chamber and looking forward to a successful year of activity for both organisations.

On Mr. Dollar's motion, the Association voted to appoint a subcommittee to gather data for the investigation of abolition of extra-territoriality, to work with a similar group appointed by the Chamber of Commerce. BRITAIN INTENDS TO PAY U. S. DEBT, BUT NOT IN GOLD

Stanley Baldwin, Treasury Chief, Explains Position

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 8.—The first formal conference between the British and American Debt Funding Commissions opened today. It is believed that the rate of interest will be one of the first questions to be considered as the other terms largely depend on that.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 8.—Cordiality marked the first formal conference of the Debt Funding Commission.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon expressed deep appreciation of British courtesy in thus unprecedented action in despatching the Chancellor of the Exchequer on such a mission.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin declared that he did not seek favors but a square deal, which would secure repayment to America of the last cent of her war-time credits.

Great Britain did not intend to depart from the principle of making the present generation pay as far as possible for the war but payment of her debt to America in gold was impossible.

On the contrary, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer said, the conference was faced with the problem of liquidifying international credit in view of a situation in which the creditor nation was unwilling to permit liquidation through the direct delivery of goods and was also unwilling to see the sale of her products to the debtor nation interrupted.

In conclusion, Mr. Baldwin expressed the opinion that an agreement between the two great democracies in this connection would be a long step towards solving the economic troubles of Europe.

Berlin Not Expected To Resist New Occupation

Exclusive Dispatch to THE CHINA PRESS

Paris, Jan. 8.—Premier Poincare conferred today with the Minister of Public Works on final arrangements for the transportation of military and civilian forces to Germany.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, January 8.—Writing in the Echo National, M. Tardieu stated that the Germans themselves had proclaimed that since 1920 France had abandoned more than 40 percent of the credits of the Treaty of Versailles, adding:

"We intend that the rest shall not follow the same road. There is nothing excessive in our desire."

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, January 8.—At the Cabinet meeting today M. Le Trocquer, the Minister of Public Works, handed to M. Poincare a note, refuting point by point the German allegations on the subject of the coal deliveries. The Premier at once transmitted the note to M. Barthou, the President of the Reparations commission.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Jan. 8.—French occupation of the Ruhr is expected on January 10. No organised disturbances or strikes are anticipated at Essen.

The newspapers state that the German Government will refuse to enter into separate negotiations with France. They express the opinion that the occupation will not lead to any action on the part of the German Government beyond a formal protest.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 8.—Large crowds assembled today in the neighborhood of the Hotel Astoria where the Reparations Commission is sitting. All the Allied delegates were present. The police shepherded the German experts through a side entrance.

The Germans' statement lasted until 5.30 when the sitting was adjourned until tomorrow to hear the conclusion of the German case.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 8.—The decision about to be taken by the Reparations Commission is awaited with the keenest concern as, according to Reuter's Paris correspondent, if the Commission declares that Germany has defaulted in the matter of coal deliveries, France will give the word to march directly her plans are completed, possibly tomorrow, without waiting till January 15.

This is the date when Germany should announce whether she is able to pay cash for the deliveries, if the Minister of Public Works has furnished the President of the Commission with a note refuting the German statement relative to the deficiencies, which the German representative will elaborate before the Commission.

In the meantime French troop movements continue. It is assumed that the first French objective will be Essen.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Jan. 8.—A communique is published today denying the accusation of voluntary default in respect to coal, timber and paving-stones deliveries. It admits that the obligations have not been entirely fulfilled but attributes this partly to the fact that the demands from the very outset were excessive and partly to uncontrollable circumstances, such as strikes and transport difficulties, and largely to the alleged unwarranted conduct of the French authorities.

The communique maintains that only preliminary negotiations have proceeded with regard to deliveries of nitrates and denies that the Government has in this matter, violated the Peace Treaty because the Reparations Commission has not made any definite demands.

'SIG' APPLEMAN, VIOLINIST, TO BE BURIED TODAY

Maxim's Orchestra Member Succumbs To Intestinal Trouble

Funeral services will be held today in the chapel of the Jewish cemetery in Baikal Road for Sigmund Appleman, former violinist in the orchestra at Maxim's Cafe.

Mr. Appleman died Saturday night at the General Hospital shortly after an operation for intestinal trouble, from which he had suffered almost from the time he embarked at San Francisco, with the other members of the orchestra, for Shanghai. When the boat reached Yokohama he was seriously ill, and was taken immediately to the hospital upon his arrival in Shanghai. There he underwent five operations, and while he seemed on the road to recovery at times his strength was not sufficient to carry him through the last operation.

Mr. Appleman was 26 years old, and was born in Salt Lake City, where he lived until two years ago, when he went to San Francisco. In the California city he played in numerous orchestras at cafes and theaters, and was was known as an exceptionally capable musician.

The other members of the orchestra who knew him in San Francisco said that before leaving for Shanghai he appeared to enjoy fine health.

Mr. Appleman was a member of the Elks lodge at Provo, Utah. During the war he enlisted in the army and was in training at Camp Funston, Kansas, at the time the Armistice was signed. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Appleman, and two sisters in Salt Lake City.

His former associates in the orchestra, all of whom are greatly saddened by his death, will act as pall bearers at the funeral today.

Eddie Entertains News Hounds; Will Open New Cafe Soon

Prior to the opening of the new Eddie Cafe at the corner of Broadway and Minghong Road on Friday afternoon with a Tea Dansant, members of Shanghai's "Fourth Estate" were entertained yesterday at a tiffin that included everything from the olive in the cocktail to the aged liqueur.

The new premises which is a three story building is decorated attractively in old rose and gold, but the food—was by far the finest this side of Fifth Avenue, or the Boulevard des Italians.

Mr. Eddie has a series of cooks, foreign, Chinese and Japanese, so it is possible to have anything the heart or appetite craves. In fact the cheerful proprietor dares his customers to ask for something in the fish or game line that he cannot produce. After a trip through five cold storage rooms Mr. Eddie gave promise of fulfilling his promise, and after a most enjoyable lunch, as previously mentioned, one of the scribes happened to mention a lingering penchant for Florida grapefruit, with a dash of Xeres. A few moments later "Blue Goose" grapefruit with the Poinciana label made their appearance, and the Xeres likewise with the fragrance of sunny Spain.

Foreigners desiring Chinese Chow a la Americaine, i.e., Chow Suey, Chow Mein, and pickled sharks fins will be prepared by Chinese cooks, who won their blue ribbons in New York and San Francisco thus assuring the real homeside flavor.

Mr. Eddie has chartered a large passenger boat for the Summer months which will run between Shanghai and Woosung, with restaurant, bar, large dancing floor and movies. This boat will run to Pootoo over the week end.

THRIFT WEEK 1923 — THRIFT WEEK 1923

Thrift Week-The Idea.

For some years it has been the custom in America to observe one week in January of each year as a time when the principles of wise finance should be emphasized.

Of course, Thrift to be helpful must be practiced all the time, but it is especially beneficial to check up at least once a year our habits along this line with the standards found by experience to be desirable.

During the 1923 Thrift Week, from January 17th to 23rd, consider carefully the special objectives for each day and if they suggest weaknesses in your methods correct these immediately.

HEAVY FIGHTING EXPECTED SOON NEAR WUCHOW

Victory Of Sun's Forces On January 6 Confirmed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Jan. 8.—The Cantonese success in driving the Kwangsi and Yunnan forces to Wuchow on January 6 has been confirmed.

General Yeh Chu, Chief of Staff of the Cantonese Army, is commanding operations in the field while General Chen Chiung-ming is remaining in Canton.

Canton is quiet.

Reliable reports from Samshui state that heavier fighting is expected within three days near Wuchow.

(China Press Service)

Canton, Jan. 8.—The Constitutionalist troops, having succeeded in executing a flank movement on the North River, pounced upon the back of Shiuhing yesterday. Thus, Chen Chiung-ming's forces at Sikiang or the West River now find themselves attacked in the front as well as in the rear.

The opposing forces have already clashed at Shiuhing. Steamers leaving here for Wuchow can proceed only as far as Shanshui.

Chen Chiung-ming has dispatched another division of troops to Shiuhing for reinforcement and has ordered the immediate departure of Huang Chi-hwan's troops for Kinchow to strengthen the defence there.

The pawn-shops at Canton have been ordered by the military authorities to contribute each the sum of $200 towards the maintenance of Chen's troops. As there are over seven hundred pawn-shops at Canton, the authorities are planning to raise the minimum amount of $140,000.

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 8.—An urgent telegram from Canton reports that the Constitutionalist troops have occupied Tehhingchow, about thirty miles from Shiuhing, a strategic center half way between Wuchow and Canton. The report adds that the fall of Shiuhing is imminent.

Government circles are much perturbed by the report. Gen. Tsai Cheng-hsun, Director-General of the Rehabilitation of Kiangsi, has been instructed to dispatch troops to the Kwangtung border for the relief of the forces under Chen Chiung-ming.

(China Press Service)

Canton, Jan. 8.—The troops under the command of Major Li Yin-chin, stationed at Kwanyinshan, in Canton, were disarmed by Chen Chiung-ming's bodyguards in co-operation with the garrison of the provincial capital last night.

The action was taken in consequence of a report reaching Chen's headquarters to the effect that Major Li's troops were conspiring with the Constitutionalist army, which is now advancing on Canton.

Hasty measures are being taken by Chen Chiung-ming, in view of a report that some of his lieutenants recently met and proposed to declare independence in Canton.

Museum Gets Famous Painting

Paris, Jan. 8.—The Louvre Museum has acquired the painting, called the "Flute-player," attributed to Velasquez.

Nantao Institute Is Past Half-Way Mark In Drive For Funds

The results of the first week of the membership and financial campaign have brought much encouragement to the Generalissimo, Mr. C. F. Hsu, the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, and his fourteen team leaders.

At the dinner on Saturday evening at the Y. P. S. Hotel, $3,544.00, half of the required amount, was reported as already in hand. At present the Fu Wu Team, Mr. T. C. Woo, of the Commercial Press, leader, is ahead of the others with a showing of 620 points. However, other teams are pressing hard and will make the Fu Wu men work hard to retain their position.

The trams are carrying Campaign posters for three days, and drawing the attention of the entire community to the work of the Institute. The contributions from the foreign hongs will assist in making the campaign a success.

General Wood Is Sued In New York

General Leonard Wood, now Governor-General of the Philippines, is one of a number of prominent men named in suits now being heard in the New York courts by the Equitable Trust Company to collect $10,000 from the 'Board of Governors' of the defunct American Flying Club. Other 'members of the Board' named include Capt. Eddie Richenbacker, John N. Willys, T. Coleman Du Pont, W. A. Rockefeller, jr., and Franklin K. Lane, now dead. All alleged members of the Board in New York have denied that they knew that they were members of the Board.

Indian Watchman Is Charged With Gun Smuggling

Sajawal Shah, an unemployed Indian watchman, was charged with attempting to smuggle 9 revolvers and 300 rounds of ammunition off the President Taft before Judge Peter Grain in the British Police Court yesterday.

Mr. A. N. Royce, Customs Tidewaiter, testified that the Indian had been arrested after he was seen carrying the satchel containing the revolvers on the gangway of the ship anchored off Woosung. The prisoner was locked up on board the ship and brought to Shanghai on the tender.

After Mr. W. P. Wilson of the Pacific Mail had testified that the No. 1 watchman, who employs the others, had received a telegram just previous to the arrival of the ship the case was remanded for further hearing.

Italian Opera

Lucia di Lammermoor, Donizetti's tuneful opera, was given yesterday evening by the Italian Grand Opera Company before an enthusiastic audience at the Olympic theater. The honors were about equally divided between Signors Scamuzzi in the role of Henry Ashton, Cappelli as Sir Edgar, and Mlle. Delza who depicted the unfortunate bride.

Following the famous sextette in the second act which was particularly well rendered, the audience cheered repeatedly demanding an encore. A similar ovation was accorded Mlle. Delza following her long cadenza with flute obligatto in the third act. Signor Capelli received great applause after the famous "Farewell" aria, which he rendered with great sympathy and feeling.

Faust is scheduled for this evening's bill. The name part will be sung by Capelli, while Mauceri will play Mephistoles. Scamuzzi will be seen as Velentine, Aida Ballarin as Siebel, and charming Mlle. Ambroso as Marguerite. Martha, the faithful nurse, will be sung by Mlle. Pollastri.

On Sunday evening a special performance will be given of "Aida by special request. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Madame Butterfly, Traviata, Cavaleria Rusticana and Pagliacci in the order named will be heard which concludes the present season. Following a brief tour in Japan the Italian Grand Opera Company plans a return engagement in Shanghai early in the spring.

Armed Robbers Escape With $100

Four robbers, of whom at least one was armed with a revolver, made a raid on a cigarette and exchange shop at 1290 North Shansi Road yesterday and escaped with approximately $100 after frightening the occupants, according to police reports.

The robbers entered by the front door and fired two shots while they were inside. $76 in notes and some small money was taken. No one was injured. The shopkeeper had no protective grill although he had been warned by police several times.

Philippine Judge And Two Others Shot By Bandits

Judge Andres Borromeo, of the Court of First Instance, was shot and dangerously wounded, one bandit was killed, and one dectective killed, in the latest bandit raid by armed robbers in Manila on January 3. Another detective was shot and wounded.

One detective was shot while attempting to arrest a suspicious character just as Judge Borromeo came along the street. Before escaping he attempted to shoot Judge Borromeo but the fighting judge pulled his own revolver and shot the man dead.

Several armed men immediately rose from ambush and opened fire, seriously wounding Judge Borromeo. Later in the night another detective was shot when he attempted to arrest a suspect. The bandits are still at large.

At The Carlton

Delighting another large crowd at the New Carlton, Soeur of Tatsumi, the "Japanese John McCormick" finished his engagement last night. The singer was applauded to the echo and the big audience was insistent in its demand for encores.

With the closing of the singer's engagement the admission charge to the Carlton ball room lapses, except for Saturday nights, the same rule as that of the old Carlton taking effect.

You Will Do a Better Day's Work!

—and you will feel fitter and fresher all day—if you begin the day with Sanatogen.

In these days of keen competition, the man who "wins through" is the man who does a better day's work than his competitors.

When you come to analyse it, the quantity and quality of the work you do depends, to a large extent, on the amount of nerve-energy you possess. It is nerve-energy that enables you to make the most of your brains, and supplies the "driving power" essential to success.

Now, Sanatogen definitely increases nerve-energy—does not merely stimulate or excite, but increases it to a remarkable degree. The result is that when you take Sanatogen you do more and better work than you have been been accustomed to do. Nor is this a temporary effect; it continues day by day, week by week.

Dr. Claude L. Wheeler says:—

"The user of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from langour, a gain of strength and activity, alertness of mind, and an increased resisting-power to diseases."

Begin by Taking Sanatogen Regularly Every Morning with or After Breakfast

This will enable you to acquire that extra nerve-energy which spells success in every business and profession; which gives you a zest and a delight in your work; which makes you keen and concentrated, alert and self confident, and thus gives you the power to realise your ambitions.

Take the first step today, not tomorrow—now not presently. Sanatogen can be obtained of all Chemists and Dispensaries.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS LECTURE BY MISS ARYTON

Miss Phyllis Aryton of Edward Evans and Co., Ltd., in an address on "Psychology As Applied to Every Day Life" delivered before the Literary Department of the B. W. A. yesterday, stated that if one desires to remain young and radiate the spirit of youth one must have living interests."

"Modern life is monotonous," said Miss Aryton, and it is monotony which is deadly and which causes men and women to age.

Miss Aryton urged the women to study, think for themselves, discuss problems of world interest and importance, investigate and come to their own conclusions rather than accepting the opinions of others.

The speaker urged the club women to develop the imaginative side of the child. "The child loves fairy tales while men and women never outgrow romancing in the land of make believe. It is the dreams of our life which make living worth while."

In conclusion the speaker urged the women to teach the boys and girls to form high standards of living and conduct by means of auto-suggestion.

Paris, Jan. 8.—The apparent dullness at the Lausanne Conference continues. The sub-commission for health questions was the only one to meet today. On the return of M. Barrere, who is expected tomorrow morning, the commissions will resume their labors.

London, Jan. 8.—A feeling of pessimism akin to apprehension is prevalent in diplomatic quarters as regards the fate of the Lausanne Conference owing to the stiffening attitude of the Turks since the collapse of the Paris Conference, notwithstanding the fact that Allied solidarity in Lausanne has in no way been affected by the Paris failure.

It is expected that the Allies will concentrate on drafting a peace treaty embodying the extreme limits of concession to which they are prepared to go to meet the Turkish claims and that the Treaty will be presented for definite acceptance or rejection. The result should be definitely known about January 20.

In the meantime precautionary military movements are proceeding.

A NOTABLE REAPPEARS

Tsang Too-pau, the diminutive, acrobatic beggar who used to stand on his head while soliciting alms from foreigners in the Eastern district was brought into the Mixed Court yesterday, where he was charged with begging and with returning to the Settlement after having been expelled.

When asked why he had come back into the Settlement, the dwarf declared that he had come to see his mother. The Court commented that this had been his excuse on five previous occasions and inquired if his mother would not find it as convenient to live in Chinese territory. The defendant replied that the Court's suggestion was a good one and he would try to get his mother to comply with it. The Court applauded, but held up the experiment three months, until Tsang uses up his current sentence.

BY TOMMY GRAFTON

Roy Squires was the hero of last night's basketball game at the Y.M.C.A. between the Stripes and the American School five, in which the schoolboys came off winners by a score of 34 to 24. The School center played a magnificent game, passing accurately to his teammates and scoring eight baskets, most of which came in the second period and stopped the Stripes, who started a rally.

It was a hard-fought game from the start, the schoolboys opening like a cyclone, scoring four baskets before the Stripes had a chance to catch their breath.

The Stripes then came back with three successive goals, and play was close during the remainder of the half, which ended with the schoolboys on top of a 20 to 12 count.

The second half was marked by close play, Ross, Barnes and Smith each scoring two baskets, while big Squires cut loose with 5 and Smith and "Dud" Squires caged one apiece. Maxey Smith played a snappy game at running guard for the schoolboys, putting the ball through the loop three times for markers.

The summary follows:

Am'n. School 34		Stripes 24

HARPER WINNER IN XMAS HUNT OF HANKOW CLUB

In glorious weather with not too much snow on the ground and not more than 100 of frost eighteen starters gathered on the Hankow Polo ground on Christmas Day all more or less confident of winning the hunt of the season and a red coat as well.

There were numerous followers and masses of spectators who appeared to be not a whit perturbed by the sharp tooth of the Winter Wind.

The 'Unt consisted of Messrs. Cannan, Harper, Fernie, Reynell, Fisher, Lovatt, Worcester, Le Sant, Eisenhut, Patterson, Cavanagh, Saunier, Forrest, Bell, Kidd, Bryson, Yates, and Wakefield, and in the absence of the Master, Mr. Dupree, who had gone "hunting" for Snipes or Rabbits—anyhow for something that did not need Fox Dogs—Mr. Lovatt officiated.

THE CARD

There was no heavy weight on the card though all of them finished the Hunt.

The Card read:

(1) Mr. Harper "Border Raider."

(2) Mr. Murray Kidd "Who Cares."

(3) Mr. Reynell "Timothy Tickler."

(4) Mr. Cavanagh "Plain Bob."

(5) Mr. Eisenhut "Mukden."

Police Vets Come Back; Wallop Youngsters In Soccer Battle; Score 2-1

A gaping wide rift cut in sunder the local Police Force last night. On the one side of the chasm might be counted all and sundry of the department's veterans, shaking mightily with glee and relating prodigious narratives of the glorious days of old. On the other side of the division was to be heard only a savage gnashing of teeth as the young men of the city's gendarmerie strode wrathfully up and down nursing their wounds and breathing threats of vengeance.

All of which was due to a gory hour or so spent on the Police football field yesterday afternoon, when the 'old times,' following up a taunt flung to the young bloods last week, ground the youngsters' noses into the soil for a 2 to 1 score. Thus the crowing and the vexation. For, not only did the oldsters grab the long end of the score, by dint of strenuous and adept footballing—but, they did it with but nine men in their line-up as against their opponents' full strength.

In chronicling the game it is necessary to go back to last Saturday, for there its history begins. The Police representatives in the soccer field had just been submerged to the tune of 9 to 1 or 2, or some such decisive combination of figures and the smart of the afternoon's gruelling was stingfully poignant when the Police clan gathered to discuss the matter of Police representation in the warfare for the Skottowe Cup.

After there had been considerable discussion of the material which has been on exhibition thus far this season, a grey haired veteran arose and made sarcastic reference to the decadence of the times, suggesting that a few of the erstwhile brilliant performers long since on the P. F. C's. retired list be resurrected to show the young men how the game should be played. Whereupon the argument grew heated and a number of spokesmen for the later crop of soccer artists dared the old-times to come out and climb into a pair of shorts and get themselves disastrously defeated. The oldsters scooped up the gage with alacrity and the fray of yesterday afternoon was the result, the opposing sides lining up under the title of the "Post War Soccer Specialists" and the homelier label of the "Old Crocks," the latter nomenclature being a final sneerful fling at the challenged faction.

A full line-up of imposing names had been compiled to defend the honor of bygone days, but it was found when time for the whistle came that a couple of the ancient ones—Captain Jimmy Ouavle, the perennial, and Redoubtable Reggie Yorke—had been unable to drag their senile limbs to the battleground. Their aged comrades refused to be deterred and with the memories of bygone conflict stirring their blood there snorted into action the following legendary heroes of Police football history—Fairbairn, Clissold, Robertson, Adams, Knight, Watson, Kay, Doyle and Cameron.

As against the following full team of Post War prancers—Tabrum, Biggs, McDonald, Munson, Spence, Isaacs, Hotchkiss, Bafley, Phillips, Crowley and McGregor.

Shortly thereafter Jock Watson socked the ball between the pillars, and some time after that Jimmy Adams did likewise. One of the junior crew managed to edge the pill over for a single point, but that was the extent of junior endeavor.

And so the matter stands. But from the agitation, ecstatic and otherwise, now rocking the force, one gathers indications of a further tournament.

REVOLVER CLUB ISSUES REPORT OF YEAR'S EVENTS

The annual report of the Shanghai Revolver Club shows that only one competition for "the expert's medal was held during 1922. The only expert for the year was Mrs. C. W. Malkin. The All-comers championship competition was won by L. R. Wheen, and the Club Members championship competition was won by Capt. E. I. M. Barrett.

During the year 13 members passed the preliminary test for marksman. Since the Club was formed there have been held 85 competitions for the expert's medal and bar. Seven members qualified for experts special class, 74 members qualified as experts and 453 qualified for marksmans class.

The British Women's Association Revolver team made excellent use of their practice during the year and held one team competition with the Special Police.

This B. W. A. came off victors with 244 points to the good, although the competition was held on a strange range, with only one preliminary trial before the match.

As a great number of the Revolver Club members belong to the S.V.C. it is expected that monthly team matches will be held on the Club's range between teams from the different units.

The Club has three ranges for either service weapons or miniature rifle shooting.

There is also an experienced instructor to teach beginners with the automatic pistol or rifle.

Applications for membership may be made to the Secretary, Mr. Thomas Freeman, corner of Avenue Haig and Route Say Zoong.

Shimidzu And Kashio Make Coveted First Ten; Former Fourth

CHINA PRESS EXCLUSIVE

New York, January 9.—William T. Tilden, the greatest tennis player America ever produced, is again placed at the top of the list of stars, according to the official ranking of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Tilden is without question the greatest singles player in the world.

Second on the list is William M. Johnston of San Francisco, "Little Bill," who lost the American title to "Big Bill" Tilden in a gruelling series of matches last summer.

Third in the ranking is Vincent Richards, the youngest player who ever represented the United States in Davis Cup competition. Richards was developed by Tilden and the latter claims that, in four years, he will succeed him as number one in the official ranking.

R. Norris Williams, former Harvard tennis captain, is adjudged the fourth best while Zenzo Shimidzu, and Kashio, the Japanese stars, are listed seventh and eighth.

Tilden and Richards are figured the best national doubles players with the Kinsey Brothers, Howard and Bob of San Francisco, listed as runners-up.

Molla is regarded the greatest lady singles player in the coun-

Hangchow Women Active In Social Welfare Work

Mrs. Grace Thompson Seton, who is spending several months in China for the purpose of studying the various types of Chinese women, sailed yesterday for Hongkong and Canton.

Mrs. Seton has just returned to Shanghai from Hangchow where she visited the various schools for girls, interviewed leading Chinese women club leaders, and investigated industrial conditions of women workers.

The progress of the Chinese women living in this fascinating old city amazed Mrs. Seton. Although she has visited Peking, Tientsin, Soochow, Nanking and Shanghai she was unprepared for the activities of the women of Hangchow.

One of the most wide-awake Woman's Suffrage Clubs in China is in Hangchow. The meetings are attended by men as well as women and discussions are held of the problems of China, doings of the women of the various nations, and demands of the "new woman" of China.

The women are making a stand for equal property and inheritance rights with the men and for equal suffrage.

One of the most interesting Chinese women of Hangchow is Mrs. K. C. Wong, President of the Woman's Social Club, treasurer of the Young Women's Christian Association and wife of Dr. K. C. Wong, a prominent physician.

Mrs. Wong was enthusiastic in her discussion of the better hygiene movement which has been launched in Hangchow. Mrs. Wong, together with a number of prominent Chinese women, are preaching a gospel of clean homes, improved living conditions and better care of the children. She is a leader also in the "Better Baby Movement," conducted under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A.

An organization in Hangchow which interested Mrs. Seton especially is the Tuesday Club, which is composed of young Chinese married couples, and has a membership of more than 100 couples.

The first part of the meeting each week is given over to discussion of political subjects and addresses on topics of world interest and the later part to games and refreshments.

The Church Mission Society, which is financing a splendid hospital in Hangchow, has opened the doors of its Medical School to women and this year five ambitious girls have enrolled. A number of girls are studying also in the Nurses School.

KINGMAN & BROS.
How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis, esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr KINGMAN to the subscribers consist in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

'GHOST' FACTOR REASON DEATH REPORT WASLATE

Police Re-emphasise Necessity For Early Notification

The importance of notification to the police of all sudden or violent deaths occurring among the Chinese population in the Settlement was again referred to during the course of an inquest held by Mixed Court authorities yesterday.

The inquest, held before Assessor King and Magistrate Li, was in connection with the death of one Dzung Woo-dzing last Sunday at 182 Alabaster Road. The body had been removed to Soochow for burial before the authorities were notified. According to the evidence, the deceased, who was a shoemaker's assistant, had fallen under suspicion in connection with the disappearance of eight pairs of shoes. The implication preyed so much on his mind that he swallowed a quantity of match-heads, dying after a violent illness lasting several days.

Testimony was given at the inquest by the victim's aunt, with whom he lived, and when asked why the police had not been notified earlier she stated that she had been in a hurry to complete the burial arrangements because a priest had told her that her nephew's death was a "ghost business."

Chief Inspector Wheeler, of the Mixed Court, asked the Magistrate to request the representatives of the Chinese press to make mention in connection with their report of the case of the imperative necessity for early notification of the police in all cases of sudden or violent death.

There were One Thousand and one stories in "The Arabian Nights". "Kismet", the Thousand and Second story, by its whimsical brilliance, out does all the others.

In The U. S. Court For China

In re Application of A. Tilton Steele.

Cause No. 2026.

Special Proceeding No. 477.

Issued, 11th January, 1923.

SYLLABUS

(By the Court),

1. Courts: Jurisdiction. It is the amount claimed in the complaint which determines whether the commissioner has jurisdiction and the latter is not ousted by filing a counter-claim for more than the limit.

2. Id.: Id. In such cases the commissioner may consider and adjudicate the claim up to the amount of $500.000 U. S. currency.

3. "Mandamus will not lie where there is an adequate remedy by appeal."

A. T. Steele, Esq., pro se.

F. J. Schuhl, Esq., contra.

Lobingier, J.:

This is a proceeding by the defendant in a cause now pending before the Commissioner to compel the latter "to transfer the record and file of the said cause . . . to this Honorable Court for trial," etc. It appears that the action below was for Taels 250, for attorney's fees, and that the present applicant as defendant filed an answer to the counter-claim for $2,000.00 U. S. currency. His contention is that this counter-claim, being beyond the limit of the Commissioner's power to render judgment, requires the cause to be transferred to this Court. But the Commissioner cannot be ousted of jurisdiction in any such manner (1). If he could, almost any trial before the Commissioner could be terminated by the mere filing of a counter-claim. It is the amount claimed in the complaint which determines jurisdiction (2) and where the defendant files a counter-claim in excess of the limit the court will consider and adjudicate it up to the limit but no farther (3).

The applicant also complains of certain alleged procedural errors in the trial above referred to. But no judgment has been rendered. When it is the applicant will have the right to appeal and where such right exists mandamus (for such appears to be the remedy here sought) will not lie (4).

Since the hearing on his application, the applicant has filed a motion asking that the respondent "be required to answer or plead in accordance with the ordinary rules of court," etc. Mandamus, however, is not an ordinary but an extraordinary remedy and the practice in this court is that when such application is presented it is first examined to determine whether it sets forth grounds which prima facie entitle the applicant to relief. On this point the applicant is heard and also the adverse party if he desires it. But the sufficiency of the application should be determined before requiring the latter to answer.

The procedure in this instance has been the same as in other cases. The application has been examined and found insufficient to justify the relief asked and it is accordingly denied at the applicant's costs.

By the Court,
CHARLES S. LOBINGIER,
Judge.

Italy Want Loan To Austria Repaid

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 8.—M. Cerutti, Italian Minister, has made representations to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, for a prompt settlement of the contract in connection with the postponement of the Austrian Loan signed previous to the War.

In reply, the Ministry refers the Italian Minister to a recent decision of the Cabinet, which declared that the Agreement with regard to the postponement of the Austrian Loan was not a fait accompli. It adds that since the Lo Wen-kan case is still pending, no steps can be taken at present towards a settlement.

Much significance is attached to the report by the authorities here, in view of the fact that the Old Chiaotung Clique are intriguing to regain their lost foothold in the Government.

PRESS UNION IN BRITAIN DEMANDS EMPIRE WIRELESS

Postmaster General Says Government Is "Considering"

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 8.—A deputation from the Empire Press Union today urged upon the Postmaster-General the necessity for an Empire wireless system and requested a statement regarding the policy of the Government in that connection, pointing out that the present communications were but little serviceable for the supply of news.
The stations of France and Germany were far bigger and more capable, giving means of power and propaganda, in which Great Britain should not be outdistanced. A speedy decision was necessary in view of the high cable rates.
The Postmaster-General replied that the Government realised the necessity for cheap and abundant Empire communications. The Government was reconsidering the policy of its predecessors with regard to the method of establishing an operating installation in Britain but had not yet reached a decision. He dwelt on the question of the cost and the great technical difficulties of establishing an operating installation but said that he did not think that a decision on this point would long be delayed.
The question of the size of the station, however, would remain. He did not fear conflict or disagreement with the Dominions, where arrangements with private enterprise had already been made.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

January 9, 1923

Spot bar silver was up ⅛d. and forward down 3-16d. in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 66 cents and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 464⅝. At the opening our official quotations were unchanged from yesterday but as the market was on the easy side with speculators strong buyers the Sterling rate was subsequently dropped to 3-0⅝, the Gold Dollar rate to 71¼, the Yen rate raised to 69 and the other rates changed accordingly.

Our market here opened easy, became firm later on in the day but eased off again at the close. The lowest rates at which business in Sterling was done were 3s. 1d. for January, 3s. 0⅝d. February and 3s. 0⅛d. March. The lowest rates for Gold Dollars were 71⅞ January, 71½ February and 71¼ for forward.

The highest rates for Sterling were 3s. 1⅛d. January, 3s. 1d. February and 3s. 0⅝d. for Gold Dollars, 72⅛ January, 71⅞ February and 71⅝ for forward delivery. There were at all times good sellers at the lower rates and good buyers at the higher ones.

During the course of the day speculators bought between two and three lacs of Sterling for March delivery. The market closed easy.

Banks were quoting 3s. 1⅝d. and 73½ for Sterling and Gold Dollar bills for delivery prior to China New Year and 3s. 1⅛d. and 73¼ for subsequent deliveries. There were buyers of Franc bills at 1100.

India bought silver for ready delivery in London yesterday and China sold for forward. The market there is reported as steady. There was nothing doing in the New York silver market yesterday.

Halting Between Two

The following editorial survey of the situation in Europe developing out of the Paris and Lausanne conferences and the possible reactions in America, appeared in The New York Times of December 14. It goes to show that the Administration at Washington is proceeding more than ever with caution and that in the opinion of The Times, at least, the time has come for the launching of a bolder policy if Europe is to be saved at all. And this it must be borne in mind was written before the breakdown of the Paris Conference and the decision of France to occupy the Ruhr region:

(New York Times, December 14)

IF the foreign policy of the Washington Administration continues to furnish agreeable surprises to the American people, it also continues to puzzle them. Consider the latest statement made in the name of this Government at Lausanne by Ambassador Child. It was a firm and worthy declaration of the interest taken by the United States in the safety and protection of minorities in the Turkish Empire. It recited the historic connection of America with missionary, educational and philanthropic enterprises in the Near East, and asserted that the people of this country were following the critical negotiations at Lausanne with "profound interest." And it dwelt specifically and forcibly upon the things which "the United States and the whole world may expect and may righteously require."

This is splendid, but is it not also ambiguous? The country had been scrupulously assured that our representatives at Lausanne were only "observers." Yet we see them day after day coming forward with the most important and explicit announcements of American policy. What more could they have done if they had been fully empowered members of the conference, equal in rank with the French and English and Italian delegates? No one doubts that they speak as they do only on definite instructions by the State Department. The carefully prepared papers which they read to the conference cannot be intended merely as pious aspirations. It would not befit the dignity of an American Ambassador to appear merely in the guise of a man filing a document with the conference and then losing all concern about its fate. Yet Americans are left in doubt how far their own Government proposes to go. Ambassador Child speaks gravely of what the United States expects and requires. If we don't get what we require, what next? No clear word comes from Washington.

Equally inconclusive and even baffling are the words which come from the White House respecting the attitude of this Government toward the whole complex of financial problems which involve the United States along with Europe. At one moment the spokesman for the Administration assures the Washington corrrespondents that the Government is not "inactive" in all these pressing matters. But no details are given, and when specific questions are asked there is evasion. Much has been made of the intimation in the President's message that the Four-Power Treaty might be made a model for further agreements of the kind. Did this mean an Atlantic pact parallel with the Pacific? Did we have here a hint of the emergence of the long-retired "Association of Nations" of which Mr. Harding used to speak in 1920? Queries on these points at the White House meet with a disappointing response. No, the President intended nothing in particular. He was only making a friendly "gesture." It might be followed up, and it might not. And of a similar sort are the explanations, or the lack of explanations, given in the affair of German reparations as related to the war debts. We appear to be in the negotiation, at the same time that we are endeavoring to keep out of it, formally and officially. It would require a master of interpretation to extract a clear and consistent plan out of the confusing and contradictory intimations emanating from the White House. They are a really brilliant example of non-committal.

It may be that the Administration is cautiously feeling its way. If it has to sound delicately foreign opinion, as well as to inquire nervously what course of action Congress will or will not approve, time is necessary, and it would not be seemly to press for premature decisions. But the country ought not to be left indefinitely in uncertainty. On the main question a clear leading ought to be given. It may not be possible to tell us at present how far we are to go, yet we are entitled to know in which direction we are headed. People in touch with Western opinion report a growing impatience with the want of precise knowledge what the Government's foreign policy is to be. Is it to be isolation, more or less splendid? Is it to be increasing co-operation? We can't have a mixture of both. The country cannot halt forever between two opinions. An Administration facing both ways is less likely to win popular support than one which makes known a clear-cut policy, even if many are offended by it. It would seem that the time is rapidly drawing near when Washington must cease to be content with phrases susceptible of a double meaning, and must use words pointing as straight as a signboard.

Are You Looking For Some Good To Do Today?

BY J. J. MUNDY

It is likely that stored away in your head you have dreams that when you become wealthy you are going to do some grand things for suffering humanity.

You are going about the country paying off mortgages on the homes of poor people, you are going to establish free schools, you are going to endow an orphanage, a home for widows and aged men and women.

You have a lot of ideas of what you will do when you become rich, and yet you have no thought of trying at present to help the unhappy.

You are waiting for the arrival of that golden age, when you are wealthy and, of course, popular.

Comparatively few men and women reach that golden age you dream of.

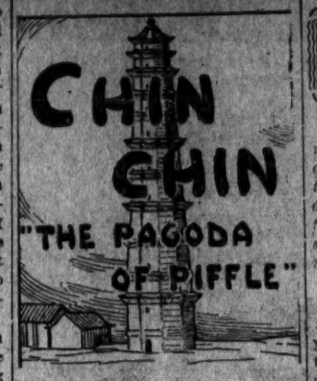
But there are many things here, and now, you might do for humanity.

If you are grouchy and disagreeable at home it might be well for you to start there in your effort to bring sunshine to others, for the home folk have a right to expect it from you.

If you have an automobile, it might be very acceptable to some poor person or to some one who is ill and alone, to have an opportunity to ride.

You might take a lot of children occasionally on a picnic excursion.

There are lots of things you could do for humanity today.



Two Russians walking around the world, now in Shanghai, expect to find a stable government in Russia by the time they finish their walk. That depends of what kind of walkers they are!

He was always afraid of even his sister, Heliotrope McGimple, the leading manicurist of Whewtopia, and on numerous occasions he has left the room when he merely wanted to change his mind. China In 1922

THE CHINA PRESS presents herewith another installment of its annual review of industrial, educational, political and religious conditions in the various provinces for the year just closed. Another installment will be published tomorrow.

ANHUI PROVINCE

Anhui Province during the past year has escaped in great measure the political upheavals which have so disturbed the provinces on all sides of us. We have had as Civil Governor, Mr. Hsu Shih-ying, who has been able to reconcile the various factions to a considerable extent. He came to this Province in 1921, and immediately began to formulate plans for improvements in many lines, some of which are now under way, and others which are still hoped for when funds become available.

He has been handicapped, as is the case in so many of the other Provinces, by having to spend the greater part of the Provincial revenues on the military establishment, an estimate recently made being that no less than eighty to eighty-five percent of the total funds expended during 1922 were for military use. Hence a great many other objects have had to wait, or be done in an unsatisfactory manner. Governor Hsu, however, has the welfare of the Province very much at heart, as is evidenced by the fact that he has supplemented the Provincial revenues with a substantial sum of his own, forty thousand dollars being the sum he is reported on good authority to have expended out of his own pocket during the past twelve months. He has also been quite active in the disbandment of troops.

After the Tuchun, Chang Wen-sen, resigned during the summer, General Ma Ling-chia, who has been in the Province for some years as Commissioner of Defense, was appointed by Peking to the command, with orders to co-operate with Governor Hsu in disbanding the troops as fast as possible. The latest report are that about twenty "yin" approximately ten thousand troops have been disbanded, and the process is still going on at a good rate.

DECLINES HONOR

Governor Hsu was recently offered the post of Minister of Justice in one of the recent cabinets in Peking, but declined the honor.

Financially Anhui Province has not fared so well. The Province is not a wealthy one at best, and there have been floods and famine here during the year which have made considerable sections destitute. There were severe floods following torrential rains in July and August in two or three regions, especially in the Nanling region, also in Chinhsien and Ninkwofu regions. There actual famine conditions have been existing and still continue to some extent. The Provincial Famine Relief Committee, connected with the International Committee, of which Governor Hsu and Bishop D. T. Huntington of the American Church Mission are joint chairmen, have had the situation well in hand. The Peking Distribution Board allotted $500,000 for the work in Anhui. Of this amount $140,000 has not yet been paid over, and is being held in Shanghai at the present. Steps are being taken however to secure this amount, which will enable the Committee to complete their work. The other foreign members of the committee are Mr. P. Petersen, Postal Commissioner, Mr. M. H. Wheeler of the Y.M.C.A., Father Serapio of the Roman Catholic Mission, and Messrs. E. J. Lee, T. L. Sinclair, J. H. Pott, and Dr. H. B Taylor of the American Church Mission. An equal number of Chinese make up the rest of the committee.

The Anhui Mint, located at Anking, has helped in disorganising financial conditions in this Province. At this mint copper coins and silver twenty cent pieces are turned out in large numbers, all light in weight. At present no Yuan Shih-kai silver subsidiary coins are accepted by the merchants, except at large discounts, and the copper coins are accepted at increasing amounts per dollar.

Commercially, Anking is not particularly notable. The city is not a trading center, the officials and the Government schools being the mainstay of the city. The main public improvement which has been undertaken during the year is the beginning of the first modern road in this part of the Province. This is Governor Hsu's pet scheme and is to be a motor road running north from Anking, eventually, to reach the Huai River.

ROAD BUILDING

It was begun with appropriate ceremonies of the first of April 1922, and work has been proceeding reasonably slowly since then. At present about seven or eight miles have been graded to width, and preparations for the macadamising of this stretch are almost completed. Funds for this purpose have been found by the Provincial treasury in part. The Famine Relief Committee furnished $20,000 for famine labor, and some of the disbanded soldiers have also furnished some of the labor. The Governor has appointed a Highway Commission, with a Glasgow trained engineer in charge which has the work in hand. When this road is completed the Governor has plans for a series of others, to link up the important parts of the Province with modern transportation facilities.

Educationally Anking is strong. There are several Government schools, a new Engineering Technical College just opening with a Mr. Liu, just returned from Edinburgh University in charge, and several other technical and general schools. These are all crowded, and furnishing a high grade of instruction for the most part. The First Girls' Normal School recently celebrated its tenth anniversary. The American Church Mission had several schools, with between eight hundred and nine hundred students up to high school grade. The China Inland Mission also has a school, and the Methodist Mission. The American Church Mission also has schools throughout this part of the Province, with over a thousand students, and would have as many more were it not for lack of accommodations, the schools at present being overcrowded.

In the Government Schools the Students' Union is taking a strong part in beginning constructive work. Recently with the aid of the Anking Police force, they made a census of the children of school age in the city, with a view to urging the opening of more primary and lower grade schools for the large numbers not now enjoying those advantages. This activity on the part of the students is very encouraging in showing the awakening among all classes to the present needs of China in educational lines. The students have usually been more of a destructive force than a constructive, and we hope that in the not far distant future they may all join in constructive work for the betterment of conditions in all lines.

Along religious lines work goes steadily on in the various Missions. The American Church Mission, which has the largest work in this part of the Province, with headquarters in Anking and outstations throughout the Province, central and southern portions, has had a successful year, confirmations equalling it's best year, and educational work, as has been previously mentioned, outgrowing facilities very rapidly.

HELPING TO PUT CHINA'S HOUSE IN ORDER

Editor THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir:—The Hankow Foreign Residents' Committee owes its existence to a mass meeting held in Hankow on November 15, 1922, as a protest against brigand outrages and general lawlessness in China, more especially in the province of Honan.

The Meeting of Protest passed a resolution demanding that immediate and strong measures be resorted to for the release of the captives held by the brigands and for the restoration of law and order in the land. To put this resolution into effect the meeting elected the Committee which has since been known as the Hankow Foreign Residents' Committee.

This Committee held their first meeting the following day. All members were agreed that their first objective must be the release of the foreign captives. This has since been accomplished. How much the Committee contributed toward this result it is not for themselves to say.

From the start, however, the Committee felt they must aim at something more than the release of the captives. Their ultimate objective must be nothing less than the restoration of law and order in China for the benefit not only of foreigners, but of the Chinese themselves.

With this objective in view a number of conferences were held with a Committee of the National Chamber of Commerce then in session in Hankow. At these conferences the importance of arousing public opinion and creating a nation-wide movement to demand reforms, was discussed. After these conferences the National Chamber of Commerce passed a series of resolutions demanding disbandment of the superfluous soldiers, reform of the national finances, and the establishment of constitutional government. The National Chamber further suggested that four prominent Chinese, David Z. T. Yui, C. C. Nieh, Hwang Ren-chih and Chiang Monling be asked to devote themselves to the stirring up of public opinion and the putting into effect of the resolutions passed. Foreign friends were asked to help by using their influence with their Governments to prevent the sale of munitions of war or the granting of loans for any but purely constructive purposes to the Central or Provincial Governments, or to any faction or clique before the present military system is abolished.

In Shanghai the lead of the National Chamber of Commerce has been taken up and followed in a memorandum presented by fourteen local organisations to the Government through Dr. Alfred Sze, and in three strong telegrams from the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce to the Provincial Chambers, the two Houses of Parliament, and to the Militarists.

It seems to the Hankow Committee that the time is ripe for really doing something to help China set her house in order. The Committee intends to watch the movement which has been inaugurated in Hankow and Shanghai and to contribute whatever may be in their power toward its success. The Committee also plans to send out from time to time publicity matter having a bearing upon the whole situation, and would ask you, and the whole foreign language press of China, to give them your wholehearted support by publishing such material as they may send you.

On behalf of the Committee,
N. Astrup Larsen,
Secretary.

The Starting Point Of Thought

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

"My wife and I have received higher thoughts by studying your articles. Due to the above our foolish old family quarrels are a thing of the past. You have given us food for thought and now instead of quarrels we have discussions. Please decide this one.

"The wife says a thought is a material impression; I say a thought comes from the ether, the same as the radio. Man's mind, through concentration, becomes in a higher state of vivration, or is tuned to a higher pitch, and he is then able to receive the higher vibrations or thoughts from the ether, sent out by Omniscient God—Elizabeth and Irwin H., Marcus Hook, Pa."

I am gratified to learn that I have helped, however little, to draw people into the fold of philosophy. You are finding out the truth of Milton's description:

"How charming is divine Philosophy!
Not harsh and crabbed, as dull fools suppose,
But musical as is Apollo's lute,
And a perpetual feast of nectar'd sweets,
Where no crude surfeit reigns."

I suppose that "the wife" means that thoughts are only engendered by impressions received through the senses, as thoughts of trees, fields, hills, perspective distances, colors, etc., which come through the eyes, and thoughts having an emotional basis, which are awakened through the ears by musical sounds, and so on with the other senses.

It is true that one can go very far in explaining the origin of thought by such considerations. But the explanation is purely materialistic, reducing thought to mere nervous responses to physical stimuli, and thus shutting out all reference to spiritual inception.

It is the sort of explanation that is so interestingly illustrated by Edgar A. Poe in his analysis of the thought-reading power of one of his detective heroes—an illustration borrowed by Conan Doyle in his "Sherlock Holmes" stories. The fact brought out in such explanations is simply that thoughts follow one another in a linked chain, which may turn to the most unexpected directions.

From stubbing his toe one may be led to contemplation of the universe, every step in the series of related thoughts being clearly traceable by careful recollection. It is very interesting and instructive to watch the birth of thoughts in one's own mind when they spring up by this process of unconscious association.

Just now while writing I glanced out of the window and saw a tree, which the last time I looked at it three months ago was heavily covered with leafage, while now its head is like an old man's, "thinly thatched." Instantly the idea of age as affecting human beings sprang up in my mind, based entirely on the stimulus that the sight of the defoliated tree imparted to my brain cells.

The abstract idea of denudation following preceding fullness of covering, afforded because of its generality a way of transference of thought from a tree to a man, and then a particular man whose increasing baldness had recently attracted my attention, rose at once before my mind's eye, and I began to think of him, and a whole chain of incidents in my acquaintance with him ran through my mind.

All this occurred so rapidly that if my attention had not been concentrated by my writing on this every subject, it is probable that I should never have known what the real starting point of my meditations was.

Taking a walk is a well known means of stimulating thought and stirring up swarms of ideas. To a large extent the effect is no doubt owing to the speeding up of blood circulation, but I believe that the continual occurrence of new and varied objects of sensual impression also plays an important part in the phenomenon.

One may surround himself in his room with thought-suggesting objects, whose stimulating influence can be evoked by simply glancing around the walls. I speak from experience, for I have on the walls of my writing room a great number of small prints, most of which are portraits of famous personages of all ages, while some are pictures of various objects.

There is not one of the portraits that does not radiate historical memories, and ideas arising from such memories, the moment it is glanced at. I used to spend considerable time in old print shops collecting these things, and they have repaid me a hundredfold in education.

If thought grows trivial, or fails, glance at one of these faces. When I read in Newton's great book some one expression of his power absorbs my attention; but when I glance at him on the wall the whole Newton shines there spreading waves of thought.

But I have had space to touch on only one side of this subject. The other side presents its more spiritual aspect. If we have within us something which is superior to and survives the material body, that may be the factor, which, out of crude impressionistic materials, form the higher product of abstract thought.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CHANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."

CLEVELAND IN FRIDAY; RUSSIA HERE SATURDAY

Pacific Mail Liner Has 300 Sacks Of Mail; Nanking Sails

Two trans-Pacific liners are due in Shanghai shortly. The President Cleveland which is bringing 300 bags of mail, a big list of passengers and 1,500 tons of cargo for this port, left Yokohama on Monday night and is expected to arrive in Shanghai Friday morning. The Empress of Russia is due at Woosung from Vancouver Saturday. Both vessels will sail for South on Saturday.

The President Madison which arrived from Seattle last Sunday, sailed for Hongkong and Manila yesterday afternoon.

The next mail for the United States will go on the President Grant early Saturday morning. The vessel is due here from Hongkong Friday morning and will probably sail at 6 o'clock a.m. Saturday. It is scheduled to arrive in Seattle via Kobe and Yokohama on January 29.

The China Mail steamer Nanking leaves Woosung early this morning and is due in San Francisco via Yokohama and Honolulu on January 31.

A mail from Europe arrived yesterday morning on the steamer Cordilliere. The next one is due on the Delta, which is expected in Shanghai about January 20.

13 PROVINCES TO START DRIVE FOR TSAO'S ELECTION

Circular Telegram Will Rap Parliament For Failure To Fix Li's Term

The first step for the campaign for the election of General Tsao Kun as the next president will take the form of a telegram to be sent by 13 provinces, according to the Republican Daily News. The message will be a protest against Parliament for its failure to ascertain the term of office of President Li Yuan-hung and to consider the resignation filed by Li.

While the telegram is being drafted by the secretariat of the Paoting clique, endorsement has already been secured from the military authorities of Kiangsu, whose tuchun will probably lead the signatories, Shantung, Honan, Hupeh, Shansi, Shensi, Kiangsi, Anhui, Kansu, Chahar, Jehol and Suiyuan.

The participation of Honan and Hupeh is significant because both are considered loyal to Wu Pei-fu whose oppisition to the scheme is well-known. It is reported, however, that General Hsiao Yao-nan, Chang-Fu-lai, Hu Ching-yi, Chin Yung-ao and Chang Hsieh-yuan have formed a new alliance, whose platform favors the election of Tsao as president.

JUDGMENT IN MOORE CASE IS RESERVED

Testimony In Action Brought Against Elmont Taken In U. S. Court

Judge C. S. Lobingier in the U. S. Court for China took under advisement yesterday evening the case of Moore vs Elmont, in which Mr. Percy L. Moore, a former member of the North Baptist Mission, charged Mr. J. Elmont with inserting an advertisement in the Shanghai Gazette last August defaming his character to the extent of Tls. 20,000. Mr. Elmont owns and runs a boarding house in Quinsan Gardens.

Mr. P. F. Faison, appearing for the defendant, based his case on the fact, that the advertisement, although perhaps somewhat irregular, was not of a defamatory nature, since Mr. Moore, he said, had already committed excesses in Shanghai. He produced a series of chits alleged to have been signed by Mr. Moore in houses in Kiangse and Soochow roads.

Mr. Moore admitted having signed the chits which he said were for drinks alone, and that he had visited these houses with a party of sightseers. He stated that he was not sure whether or not he had paid any of the chits, since at the time he was being prosecuted in adultery proceedings before the United States Court for China, these chits were being utilised as a species of blackmail.

Mr. Faison then asked Mr. Moore his relations with a Mrs. Costenbeta, who was a Y. M. C. A. entertainer in France during the war. Mr. Moore stated that they were friends and nothing more that after the war he offered Mrs. Costenbeta a contract to come to Shanghai and that while she was here he paid her salary as agreed upon. He secured a room for her at Vancouver Lodge, a boarding house on Sinza road, and while she was here paid several hospital bills for her.

Miss Wade, matron of the Foreign Women's Home, stated that on October 29, 1921, Mrs. Costenbeta came to her with bruises on her head and back which she said Moore had inflicted upon her. She said that she had been living with Mr. Moore and that the injuries were the result of a quarrel. Miss Wade took Mrs. Costenbeta to Dr. Margaret Polk the following day, who examined her and dressed the wounds. Dr. Polk corroborated this testimony on the witness stand a few minutes later.

In conclusion Miss Wade stated that she had gone to Mr. Moore and upbraided him for his conduct and asked him for funds to send Mrs. Costenbeta home. He acknowledged his guilt, she said, but stated that he did not have sufficient funds to pay Mrs. Costenbeta's passage to America.

Mr. Moore again took the stand and emphatically denied everything that Miss Wade had said. He stated that Mrs. Costenbeta's injuries were the result of a ricsha accident, and that the only time that he ever had an altercation with her was when she attempted to stop him receiving letters from his wife in America.

EXCHANGE DULL
(Reuter's Service)

London, January 8.—The Stock Exchange is dull owing to political events. With the exception of French 5 percents, which are weak at 27¾, movements are not important.

The foreign exchange market is weak and nervous. French francs closed at 68.10; Belgian francs at 73.95; lire at 93¼; German marks at 43,500 and sterling on New York at 4.64½.
